LIFE-SAVING SURGERY PERFORMED BY DR. KRAKOVSKY RESTORES HEALTH, CONFIDENCE AND SELF-ESTEEM OF A MAN

La Jolla, California – Dr. Krakovsky of Penile Cosmetic Surgery Center in California has successfully removed penile silicone implant that caused discomfort, pain and embarrassment.

In his post-surgical testimonial, George opens up about the pain and embarrassment after the botched penile enlargement surgery. Even though George changed his mind about the initial operation, the surgery proceeded because of anesthesiologist not understanding George's request to wait – "I believe the anesthesiologist did not understand English clearly, even though I repeated a few times. I was actually going to change my mind on the implant, but before I knew it, I was already out. I woke up and it was all over. Immediately, I did not like it. In the room when I was recuperating, there was no natural look whatsoever. It looked deformed, appeared to be partially erect."

Within three months, the situation worsened. The pressure of the implant interfered with urinating and ejaculation. The penis got so deformed and looked so unnatural that the George's girlfriend was turned off by the look of it. At this point George was starting to feel that he was causing nerve damage. Unfortunately, George joined the thousands of men who have experienced an outmoded or failed phalloplasty surgery from the surgeons who had never completed proper cosmetic phalloplasty education and training. He decided to remove the implant with the help of Dr. Krakovsky. "I did not feel comfortable returning to the surgeon that performed the operation, afraid that he may rush through the implant removal surgery. I got in contact with Dr. Krakovsky. He is very kind and considerate."

One of Dr. Krakovsky's specialties is the reconstruction of penile enlargement surgeries. When an unhappy situation, like George's occurs, reconstruction surgery provides a way back toward normalcy. After removing the implant, George felt like a man again – "I feel natural. I feel good. I will be back to finish it [the triple augmentation surgery] up for sure."
